KEY

Roman and Arabic numerals are used in this organization. The Roman numeral I is used only to designate the head of the first or original family whose lineage is traced as completely as possible. Roman numeral II is used only to designate the second generation or the children of the ancestor designated by Roman numeral I. All persons designated by Roman numeral II are brothers and sisters of one family. Roman numeral III is used to designate the third generation, the children of persons designated by Roman numeral II. Persons designated by Roman numeral III may be brothers and sisters in a family or first cousins to brothers and sisters in another family. Roman numeral IV is used to designate the fourth generation or the children of those designated by Roman numeral III, and so on with each descending generation. In each group so designated there will be brothers and sisters, first cousins, and cousins further removed with each succeeding generation.

The Arabic numerals are used only to designate the children in an immediate family. All known children in each family are numbered 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, etc. Because of inability to secure some birth dates children are not always numbered in chronological order. These numbers are combined with the Roman numeral of their generation, making a combination such as III-4 for each person. This designates the fourth child of a family of the third generation from the family head. To find the parent of a child so designated,—III-4,—trace backwards through III-3, III-2, III-1 to the person with the preceding Roman numeral, which will in this case, be designated as II-?-. The number between the dashes will depend on the number of children in that particular family.

To prevent printing the same material twice, a descendant of two families should trace back through the connecting marriage. A name which may appear but once in the index, may trace back to two families through the name of a grandparent or great grandparent.

FOREWORD

This manuscript had its inception many years ago. Just as the jumbled bits of a jig-saw puzzle lying on a table are an incentive to some to work to see the finished picture, so the chance findings of bits of information about one's forefathers picked up while browsing in the stack rooms of libraries, create an urge in others to continue the search for more information, so that those earlier families may be reconstructed and the trail of their lives be followed down through the generations.

To do this it is necessary to get correct information as to where, when and how our ancestors lived, if their actions are to be understood and hold any meaning for people of today. This search is really endless and can never be finished, but just the completion of a portion, be it ever so small, brings much pleasure to the worker and gives a new meaning to history.

The worker in this type of research watches for clues and learns to follow hunches in seeking for facts. In most cases, expense and distance are formidable hurdles, and often people with this interest are able to exchange work and help each other by doing the research in their respective territories. Such has been the case in the preparation of this manuscript.

The sources of information usually referred to and accepted are Federal, State and County records, including war service records, pension records, tax records, marriage, birth and death records, census records, wills, deeds, abstracts, church and cemetery records, monument inscriptions, histories and family bibles. These records contain some errors as many have been copied from originals which are yellowed with age, the ink faded, and in many cases, the formation of letters is such that copyists mistake them. Therefore, it is impossible to keep out all errors. In this manuscript all names are copied as recorded in original sources, no corrections having been made. In many instances, further descriptive data proves the correct identity of a doubtful entry. It is assumed that burial places have remained unchanged.

Among those who have given of their time and effort to help in the preparation of this manuscript are Miss Jessie McLean, 927 Carr St., Greensboro, N.C., retired faculty member of the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina, Mrs. Mary Wiley Strange, 156 Saluda St., Chester, S. C., Genealogist, Miss Sadie Archer, Princeton, Ind., Librarian, Miss Anna Poucher and Mrs. Marguerite Butz, former librarians, Genealogy Section, Indiana State Library, Indianapolis, Ind., Miss Iva Hardin, former librarian, Kentucky Historical Library, Frankfort, Ky., Miss Margaret Flint, librarian, Historical Library, Springfield, Ill., Mr. James Corn, Attorney, Cleveland, Tenn., Mrs. Marie Davidson, 287 Madison St., Twin Falls, Idaho, and Mrs. Maud Yingling, 522 So. Gibson St., Princeton, Ind., and the many descendants who have furnished data which has helped to complete some of the families. To all these are due, gratitude and recognition.

"The family of William Aiken arrived in the United States from the County Antrim, Ireland, in 1775, and settled first on Brandywine Creek in Pennsylvania, from there he moved to South Carolina."

The above information was copied from the Revolutionary War Service Record of "Akin or Aiken, William, W 8 314", the son of the William Aiken mentioned above since he stated he came with his father from Ireland. The following information about the family was taken from the "Family History" on a printed invitation to a reunion of the Aiken family at Knob Prairie Church, near Akin, Illinois, on Thursday, August 31, 1911. This printed invitation is now in the possession of Mrs. Gladys Corn Becker of Springfield, Ill.

"The family consisted of William Akin, wife, name unknown, son William, born in County Antrim, Ireland, daughters Catharine and Nancy, born in Ireland and son James, who was born during the passage to America."

As far as records are concerned the above constituted the family as it arrived in America, and if other children were born into this family later, no records of such births have been found.

"William Aiken and family came first to Philadelphia. During the Revolutionary War he resided in Pennsylvania on Brandywine Creek, living in West Saint Bradford, Chester County during the years 1779, 1780 and 1781. He died, probably near Jackson Creek, Fairfield Co., S. C. after Jan. 7, 1783". This information was obtained from the Daughters of the American Revolution Library, Washington, D. C.,

William Aiken's service record in the Revolutionary War shows that he was a member of the First Company, 3rd Battalion, West Bradford, Chester Co. Pennsylvania Militia, and saw active service in 1780 and 1781 under Lieut. Col. John Hannum, and Capt. Thomas Carpenter. The references for this service record are Volume 12, pages 197, 331, 374 of the Third Series of the Pennsylvania Archives, and Volume 5, pages 566-569 of the Fifth Series of the Pennsylvania Archives. Chester County Militia Record, 1780, page 566, records his service under the name William Atkins. His place of residence was also established by the Chester County Tax Rates Book for 1780, page 334, listing him as William Atkins, Inmate. The word "Inmate" was explained as party living with relative or other person until a dwelling place could be found. The same Volume 12 of the Third Series of the Pennsylvania Archives on pages 197-198 lists Walter Aikens as freeman and William Atkins as Inmate for the tax records of 1779. Also in Volume 5, pages 565-574-569 Walter Aikins is shown to be in the same battalion and company of the West Bradford, Chester County, Pennsylvania Militia, with active service from 1780-1782. No mention is made of a relationship, but the names occur again together in South Carolina. (See Part II Allied Families, Walter Aikins, Chester Co., So. Car.)

The family of William Aiken was one of a group of Scotch-Irish immigrants who came to America from Ireland. Though called Scotch-Irish they were pure Scotch and lived in clans in Scotland until the beginning of the seventeenth century, when, under the sponsorship of James 1st, who wished to settle Ireland, they were moved to Ulster. They were a religious people known as Scottish Protestants. During the time they were in Ireland they lived within their own clans, not intermarrying or mixing with the Irish. By the middle of the seventeenth century, the landlords in Ireland had increased rentals so much that many of these families began coming to America. Some came about 1650 but the larger groups came about 1715, 1717 and 1735. They became a steady stream of immigrants totalling about 10,000 in one year. It is estimated that about 7% of our total population in 1790, which was about 225,000 were Scotch-Irish. This information about the Scotch-Irish as a group was taken from the Dictionary of American History, published by Scribners, 1940, Vol. 5, page 45.

Some of the Scottish clans which had many families arriving in the American colonies were the Aikin, McLean and McMillan clans. A study of their early settlement shows that they held to many of their clanish ways for quite a long while. They had their own meeting houses and married mostly in their own or closely related clans. An average family had from twelve to fourteen children and marriages between first cousins were a common custom. The same family names were repeated over and over, so that the problem of relationship became difficult.

Most of the Scotch-Irish landed and settled first in Pennsylvania then scattered into other states. The names of the three families mentioned above are represented among the early group of immigrants, but they kept coming through the next hundred years and often it is impossible to place even brothers together, as they came at different times and were separated by distances too great for close contacts. Moreover, early records which mention brother relationships are scarce since most of these are found only in wills.

This particular family of William Akin, wife, son William, daughters Catharine and Nancy, and son James, was living at Jackson's Creek, Fairfield District, S. C., in 1783, according to D. A. R. War Records, with the exception of the son William. In 1769, South Carolina was divided into precincts or districts. Court was only held in certain towns later sending their records to Charleston. For this reason it is difficult to locate records of these early settlers. It was not until 1785 that each district was made into several counties. County seats with records kept in courthouses did not exist until the Act of December 21, 1798.

In Mills Atlas for 1825 is a sketch of Fairfield District which was surveyed by John Allen Thorp in 1820, and improved for the Atlas in 1825, which shows Jackson Creek as fed by Winsborough Fork and Campbell's Fork and emptying into Little River. One fork of Jackson Creek is very close to Winsborough. Also about 6 or 8 miles Northeast of Winsborough on the old Road to Rocky Mount, is Mount Olivet Meeting House. This church was formerly known as the Old Wateree Presbyterian Church, having had its name changed about 1800.

According to the will of Walter Aikin who died in 1805, Mount Olivet Meeting House must have stood on or adjoining a part of his plantation. The following is quoted from his will which was proven Nov. 6th, 1805, recorded in Book C, Folio 83, Mar. 3, 1806, Office of Probate Judge, Winnsboro, Fairfield Co., S. C. "I give and bequeath to Mt. Olivet Congregation or their committee or trustees for the time being, two acres of land where the meeting house stands, with free and open privilege of a road from said meeting house to the spring at all times". At the time of his death Walter Aikin had six minor children, William, Hugh, Nancy, Jean, Sally and Ann. He and William Akin (Atkin) had both lived in West Bradford, Chester Co., Pa. and they settled within a few miles of each other in South Carolina. Other facts which seem to tie these two families together may well be mentioned here if they do not confuse those to whom this history is strange. It was mentioned previously that the son William of this William Akin family was not living with the rest of the family at Jackson's Creek, Fairfield District in 1783. This son William, who was about 16 or 17 years of age when he came to America, also enlisted in the army in February, 1781, and served at different times with the South Carolina troops under Captains John Gray and Edward Martin, Colonels Richard Winn and Taylor, as a private. His alleged service amounted to eight months. His war record, the same which gave the date of arrival of his father's family, stated that at the time of enlistment,—1781—he was residing with his uncle, David Thompson, Fairfield District, South Carolina, thus proving David Thompson was either a brother or brother-in-law of William Akin or his wife.

The name of Thompson is also mentioned in the will of Walter Aikin, as follows: "Jointly I allow the use of the plantation I now live on. Also the place Alex. Thompson formerly lived on, until my son Hugh comes of age." This shows that one of the Thompsons lived on the property of Walter Aikin. Witnessess to Walter Aikin's will were James McMillin, Hugh Smith and Jean Thompson. The name Thompson occurs again here and the name of James McMillin has special significance, as prior to 1805, Catharine Akin, daughter of the immigrant William Akin, had married a James McMillin. There is no proof that this is the same James McMillin, but it is probable as James McMillin and wife Catharine did not leave South Carolina until about 1807.

Research has not established the date of death or burial place of either William Akin or his wife. The last definite established location of the family was on Jackson's Creek, Fairfield District, S. C., Jan. 7, 1783. It is probable that between 1783 and 1800 the son James and daughter Nancy removed to North Carolina where another family of the name of William Akin lived in Guilford County. During this period, James and Nancy and the children of the William Akin in Guilford County married into the Guilford County McLean family.

Many deeds are recorded at the Guilford County, North Carolina courthouse, covering the years from 1783 to 1862 bearing the names of the William Akin who had settled in that County and whose will is recorded there in 1799, (See Part II, Allied Families) and his descendants, and also the descendants of the above mentioned James and Nancy Akin who married there in 1791 and 1800.

Since according to records now available there were just four children in William Akin's family which arrived in 1775, a separate section of Part I is given to the descendants of each. Only a few lines are brought down to the present time, but perhaps a recording of the earlier generations will help later ones to establish their individual lines.

DESCENDANTS OF WILLIAM AKIN II-1, SON OF WILLIAM AIKIN I.

II-1 William Akin or Aikin was born in County Antrim, Ireland, between February 1 and 12, 1760. Died 1844. He came to America with his father in 1775 and settled first on Brandywine Creek in Pennsylvania. From there he went to South Carolina. Revolutionary War Service Record No. W 8 314. He enlisted in February 1781 serving with the So. Car. troops under Captains John Gray and Edward Martin, Colonels Richard Winn and Taylor; served as a private, with alleged service amounting to eight months. He was pensioned on Certificate No. 12 750, issued May 21, 1833; rate $20.00 per annum; by Act of June 7, 1832 South Carolina Agency. Hannah Aikin, his widow, was pensioned on Certificate No. 4 882, issued June 15, 1849; rate $20.00 per annum; by act of February 2, 1848 by South Carolina Agency.

The following information is taken from the records. "William Akin was married in 1782 or 1783 in Fairfield "District", South Carolina, to Hannah ———." The date and place of her birth, maiden name, and the names of her parents are not shown; she was aged 87 years in 1848. During his service the veteran resided with his uncle, David Thompson, in Fairfield District, South Carolina. In 1832 he was residing on Indian Creek two miles from Winnsboro, Fairfield District. In 1847 and in 1849, his widow Hannah was a resident of Chester District.

The veteran died October 30, or 31, 1844 in Chester "District", S. C. and his widow, Hannah, died October 29, 1851, place not given.

A letter from the General Accounting Office, Washington, D. C. states: "In the case of William Akin, a pensioner of the Revolutionary War, . . . it was certified by the Clerk of the Court of General Sessions and Common Pleas for Chester District, South Carolina, that satisfactory evidence was exhibited to show that the pensioner died in Chester District on October 31, 1844, leaving a widow, Hannah Aikin. The arrears of pension due the deceased . . . were paid to the widow pursuant to a certificate issued by the Treasury Department, Third Auditor's Office, on June 13, 1849. In the case of Hannah Aikin, the widow of William Aikin, . . . it was certified by the Clerk of the Court of Common Pleas and General Sessions . . . that satisfactory evidence was exhibited to show that the pensioner died in Chester District on October 31, 1851, leaving surviving the following children; James Aikin, William Aikin, John Aikin, Sarah Wylie, Nancy Wiley, Martha Aiken, Ann Aiken, Jane Sellars and Catharine Wyley. Arrears of pension due the deceased, were paid to James W. Aiken, Administrator of her estate, pursuant to a certificate issued by the Treasury Department, Third Auditor's office, on September 18, 1852."

Burial places of William Akin and wife Hannah unknown.

III-1 Nancy Aikin. Born 3-18-1784. Estate settled 1869. Married 1-1-1805 John Wilie who came from Ireland in 1787 to Fairfield District, South Carolina. (From war record)

(The late Mr. Hugh Wilie of Winnsboro, S. C. has stated that John Wilie, husband of Nancy Aikin was a brother of Samuel and Joseph Wiley who married her sisters Sarah and Catherine. Mr. Hugh Wilie was a descendant of Nancy Aikin and John Wilie.) Nancy and John lived on the old Wilie place near Winnsboro, Fairfield Co.

According to Fairfield Co. records, Deed Book M, page 133, Nov. 18, 1799, John Wiley Sr. sold a tract of land "Situate and lying in Camden District, Fairfield Co., on waters of Wateree Creek containing one hundred acres more or less, originally granted to Samuel Nipper in . . . 1770 Oct. 12th". In Deed Book H. H. 2 page 208, Mch. 6, 1811 is the record of a deed from Joseph Wiley Sr. to Samuel Wiley for a tract containing sixty-six acres being part of a tract of Four Hundred twelve and three-quarters acres conveyed to said Joseph Wiley by Peter Smyth, Jan. 26, 1810, on the branches of Wateree Creek Waters of Wateree River, bounded by lands of Samuel Bones, Wm. Aikin and Samuel Johnson. The estate papers of Joseph Wiley Sr., establish his family of three sons and a daughter, Sarah Gamble. His wife was Mary Moore whom he married before coming to South Carolina by the way of Maryland. (From Samuel Wylie's Bible) Joseph Wyley Sr. was an elder in Mt. Olivet Presbyterian Church from 1795 until his death in 1815. (Howe's History of the Presbyterian Church in So. Car. Vol. II, Page 362) Walter Aikin was also an elder in this church.

IV-1 Joseph M. Wiley. Born 11-21-1805

IV-2 Sarah Ann Wiley. Born 2-11-1807

IV-3 "Gun" Wiley. Born 1-12-1809

IV-4 James Wiley. Born 12-13-1810

The above four children of Nancy Aikin Wiley and her husband John, are named in the file of her father, Wm. Akin. The will of John Wiley dated 3-23-1848 and probated 11-29-1850, (Fairfield Co. S. C.) names the following children:

IV-5 John Wiley. Married Caroline Aikin Smith, daughter of Hugh A. and Jane Smith. Will of Jane Smith recorded 11-16-1855, Fairfield Co.

IV-6 Elizabeth Wiley.

IV-7 Rachel Wiley. Married Tillman Gibson

IV-8 William Wiley. Bequeathed 140 ac. situate on Wateree Creek which John Wiley had purchased from Robert B. Bagley.

IV-9 Jane Wiley. Married———McDowell

V-1 John Wiley McDowell

IV-10 Eliza Wiley. Married —— Johnston. Could be Elizabeth (IV-6 above.)

IV-11 Sarah Wiley. Married —— McCreight. May be the Sarah mentioned in above group as IV-2.

In a record Book of Probate cases, in Fairfield County Office of Probate, is the following entry; "Winnsborough, S. C. May 17, 1869. We, the under signed Heirs and Legatees of Mrs. Nancy Wiley, deceased . . . John McDowell, D. T. Gibson, J. T. Wylie, John A. Weldon, Eliza Johnston and John Wylie". The same record mentions a sum of money from the Estate of Sarah Ann McCreight, proving the daughter Sarah was dead at that time. No further data on the descendants of Nancy Aikin Wiley and husband John Wiley.

III-2 James W. Aiken. Born about 1785 in South Carolina. The inscription on his monument reads "Died 9-12-1863, age about 78 years". Throughout this manuscript he is designated as "Squire Jimmy". He married Jane McLean, his first cousin, the daughter of Robert McLean (III-7 under the McLean Family) and his wife Nancy Akin (II-3 in Descendants of William Akin II-1, PART I.) who was his father's sister. Date and place of this marriage is unknown, but they came to Illinois with the family of his father-in-law, Robert McLean and settled very close to him on a farm that family tradition calls "Aunt Katy Aiken's farm", in Franklin County. According to the inscription on Jane's monument, "Died 1-12-1871, age 76 years, 8 months, 20 days", her birth was about April 24, 1794. James W. and Jane Aiken were both buried in Knob Prairie Cemetery, near Akin, Ill. A family sketch printed in 1911 stated that the couple had six sons and three daughters and gave the names as follows:

IV-1 William Aiken.

IV-2 Robert McLean Akin. Born May 6, 1822, Died 8-25-1901. Married 1-22-1849 Terissa A. Atchinson, Born 1-23-1826, Died 12-3-1906. (McLeansboro, Ill. records.)

V-1 James T. Akin. Born 12-13-1849. Unmarried.

V-2 Charles A. Aikin. Born 2-24-1851. Married 9-26-1878, Laura B. Uhls.

VI-1 Myrtle Olive Aiken. Born 8-14-1879, died 11-24-1880.

IV-7 Nancy Aiken. Married a Mr. Phillips

IV-8 Ellen Aiken. Married a Mr. Phillips

IV-9 Hannah Aiken. Married a Mr. Stilley.

The family sketch referred to as listing these children did not mention a son Walter Aiken, but there is a monument in Knob Hill cemetery near Akin, Ill. with the following inscription: "Walter, son of J. and Jane, died Oct. 30, 1854, Age 24 years."

III-3 Sarah Akin. "Born 6-24-1786, married 1-30-1807, Samuel Wylie, who was born in 1783 or 1784, and in 1848 was living in Chester District, South Carolina." —From the pension record of Wm. Akin. In the Samuel Wiley Family Bible, now in possession of J. Caldwell Wylie, 218 Forest, Glen Ridge, New Jersey, the following dates are recorded: Sarah Akin, born 6-24-1785 died 1-10-1876; Samuel Wiley born 4-8-1783, died 6-5-1853. Date of their marriage is recorded as 1-30-1806. The lineage of this family is taken completely from the records in the family bibles which are in possession of descendants.

Samuel Wylie and his wife Sarah Akin Wylie are buried in the churchyard of the Catholic Presbyterian Church, Chester County, So. Carolina: Samuel in the old type boxed up marble tomb, with flat marble slab covering the top; Sarah who died many years later, has a head stone of later date. Also buried beside them is their son Jackson Wylie who married a McCullough, and in another part of the cemetery near the east wall, lies their daughter Malinda Wylie Spence. The inscriptions for Samuel and Sarah are: "In memory of Samuel Wylie who died the 5th of June, 1853, aged seventy years and three months". "Sarah, wife of Samuel Wiley, Senr. Died June 10th, 1876, Aged 90 years 6 months and 17 days".

III-4 William Aiken. Born in So. Carolina, Wife Anna ———.

III-5 John H. Aiken. Deed Book G. G: p. 58, Chester Co., S. C. records a deed dated 10-30-1847 by John H. Aiken to Martha Aiken and Anne Aiken, presumably his two sisters, in which he sells to them 40 acres "situate in Chester Co., (Dist) on the head waters of Rocky Creek". It was bounded by lands of said John H. Aiken and was part of the original grant to William Hood in 1772. On Nov. 4, 1847, Anna Aiken, wife of the within named John H. Aiken signed her dower to the above land before John Banks, Magt. The deed and other papers were recorded 11-19-1847 and delivered to James Aiken 12-3-1847. The identity of James Aiken receiving the papers has not been established.

III-6 Martha Aiken. According to her father's pension papers, (William Akin II-1) Martha was unmarried and living in Chester District, S. C. in 1852.

III-7 Anne Aiken. Mentioned in her mother's pension papers, as Ann Aiken but not mentioned in the father's pension papers.

III-8 Jane Aiken. Mentioned in her mother's pension papers as Jane Sellars.

III-9 Catherine Aiken. Married Joseph Wiley, Jr., Administrator of the estate of his father, Joseph Wiley Sr., in 1815, Fairfield Co., S. C. His brother Samuel married Sarah Akin, III-3 and his brother John married Nancy Akin, III-1. Joseph Wiley Jr. died in 1825 as there is a record of "Catherine and Samuel Wiley, Administrators of Est. of Joseph Wiley, deceased, in account with the Ordinary of Fairfield District, dated Dec. 22-1826 on a credit of 12 months. According to the report one-third was given to Catherine Wiley the widow, and two-thirds divided into three equal parts and given to three heirs, James, Samuel and William Wiley. The form is exactly like one used on the report of Joseph Wiley Sr.'s estate on which the sons names are listed in the same manner but they are not designated as sons. Further record of the family of Catherine Wiley in So. Car. has not been found. Probably she joined relatives in Tennessee or Illinois. According to the family sketch in the printed address delivered by Dr. Andy Hall at the family reunion of the Aiken-McLean Families, Aug, 29, 1912, Katy Aiken Calwell is listed as a sister of James Aiken, (Squire Jimmy), a daughter of Wm. Akin II-1 and grandchild of Wm. Akin I, indicating that Catherine Wiley, widow, married a Caldwell. (Calwell).

IV-3 William Wiley

DESCENDANTS OF CATHARINE AKIN, DAUGHTER OF WILLIAM AKIN I

II-2 Catherine Akin. Born 1-20-1770 in County Antrim, Ireland. Died 12-12-1847, age 77 years, 10 months and 20 days. Buried in Knob Prairie Cemetery, near Akin, Illinois. Married James McMillen. He was born 4-8-1771 or 1777. (Last figure blurred on monument.) Died 11-21-1814, Princeton, Indiana and buried on Lot 6 of the original plot of Archer Cemetery. Their marriage was probably in South Carolina as they lived there until about 1809. This place of residence has been established by the Federal Census of 1850 which records the birth place of two of their daughters as South Carolina, 1798 and 1802. The birth dates of one daughter and the son are not established and they may have been born in Indiana. It is not known if this family came to Indiana with the Archers, Woods, Boyd and Hogue families who came in 1806 and 07, but they were in the same community in 1809-10.

With the James McMillen family in Gibson Co., Ind. was Mrs. James McMillen, mother of James. Whether she came with her son James, or whether she was the widow, Mrs. Mary McMillen who came a year or so later with her daughter Ann, is not established. Records of Gibson Co., Indiana, at Princeton record the marriage of Ann to Samuel H. Wood, 10-7-1815 and the death of Mrs. James McMillin in 1817. This death is mentioned on Page 14 of the History of the Presbyterian Church of Princeton at the City Library as follows: "Mrs. Robert Archer, Mrs. Boyd, a sister of Mr. Archer, Mrs. Hogue, the mother of Mr. Samuel Hogue, and Mrs. James McMillin were called from time to eternity during that same year." The quotation follows a report of the second dispensing of Sacrament of the Lord's Supper in the fall of 1817, held in the Baptist Church, a small log building, one mile north of Princeton, Ind. According to statement of Miss Sadie Archer, City Librarian of Princeton, Mrs. Boyd died in 1813 and was the first person buried in Archer Cemetery. The burial place of Mrs. James McMillin is not known. The land for Archer Cemetery was given by Robert Archer and it was near the old fort and the Archer home.

Many records in the Courthouse at Princeton, Ind. substantiate facts about the life of the family of Catherine Akin McMillen and James McMillen. His service record in the war of 1812 shows that he resided in Gibson County.

From Photostatic copies of Muster, Pay and Receipt Rolls of Indiana Territory Volunteers or Militia of the Period of the War of 1812. Deposited in the office of the War department of the United States Adjutant General's Office.

"Vol. 3, page 498, 499, 500 and 501 contain the name James McMillin in the Muster, Pay and Receipt Rolls. P. 498 the name appears under Muster Roll of Captain William Hargrove's Company of Mounted Riflemen of the 4th Indiana Regiment Militia, called into the United States Service by John Gibson Secretary and Acting Governor. Commanded by Colonel Robert M. Evans, from the 7th of September, 1812 until the 21st same instant. James McMillin is listed as a sergeant. The name appears on Pages 500 and 501 under the Pay and Receipt Rolls."

"Vol. 4, Pages 565, 566 and 567 contain the name James McMillen in Muster, Pay and Receipt Rolls. P. 565, under Muster Roll of Captain Joseph Montgomery's Company, First Regiment Indiana Militia, called into service of the United States by Captain Ephraim Gordon, from 11th August, 1812 when last mustered to 20th September, 1812, he is listed as a sergeant. Pay and Receipt Rolls are on pages 566, 567 and after the Pay Roll name is a note to the effect that he joined the Mounted Men 12 September, 1812."

These service records were received from Edna Poucher, Librarian, Indiana State Library, Indianapolis.

Many records which help to reconstruct the life of the James and Catherine McMillen family are stored away in the Courthouse at Princeton but many are in a bad condition. In the Recorder's office, Deed Book A, Page 44, is the record stating James McMillin bought from Robert Evans, Agent for Gibson County 4-1-1814, "im lot" (meaning inside lot) No. 63 containing about one half acre, and on the same date, page 67, records the purchase of "im lot" No. 25. On Nov. 21st, 1814, James McMillen died. As he was a comparatively young man, it is possible he was injured in service. The Court records show the appointment of his widow Catherine as Administrator and Guardian of the children, list the inventory of his estate, and the sale and settlement. Considerable livestock and household goods were listed in the inventory also a box of books which was not too common among the settlers at that time. No record was found of the purchase of the eighty acre farm where they lived. It was the West $\frac{1}{2}$ of the N. W. $\frac{1}{4}$ Section 3. Tp 2-S, range 10-W, 2nd P.M., Gibson Co. A certificate by an attorney from the records of the General Land Office, Washington, D. C. states this plot of land was originally claimed from the Land Office at Vincennes, Indiana, August 18, 1819 and September 28, 1822 with cash certificate No. 1585 by John Whitsett. The Probate Court Civil Order Book C, page 247, Feb. term, 1826, records a debt of Catherine McMillin to John Whitsett, continued until next term of court. Although no record of the purchase was found before James McMillin died, this item was probably a final payment by Catherine.

Later records show when Catharine McMillen sold the property of her deceased husband. Most of the deeds were dated 1826 but some not recorded until 1831. The deed for City lot No. 63, 9-18-1826 is recorded in Deed Record Book D pages 125 and 6, and the deed for lot No. 25 is recorded the same date on page 127. On the original plot of 1814, Lot 63 was one block north and one block east from the Northeast corner of the Courthouse square. The residence of Robert Archer Woods stands on Lot 25, and the research work on this McMillen family completed a link in the abstract for this lot which had one transaction missing. Deed Book D Pages 72 and 73 records the deed for the farm, legal description given above, dated 10-6-1826. The deed was signed by Catharine McMillin and heirs, but as in other cases, some of the heirs came into Court and signed at different times. Such signatures often furnished evidence of relationships. The signatures on this deed were Catherine McMillin, James McMillin and wife, Elizabeth, James Akin and Sarah Ann McMillin Akin, Hiram Corn and wife Margaret Jane McMillin Corn and Henry Redburn and wife, Katharine A. McMillin Redburn, proving four married children of James and Catharine (Akin) McMillin in 1828.

Other items in these Court Records are interesting and helpful. Probate Court Record Book C in 1822 or thereabout, describes the building of a state road from Evansville to Terre Haute, Ind. as follows: "Commencing at the North end of Main Street in Princeton, thence N. 3 E. 320 poles to a stake near the Widow McMillin's field, thence . . . to a sugar marked 2 mi. from Princeton, then on to Patoca Bridge"—another check on the location of the McMillen farm. In the same Record Book, page 103, an entry is made that James McMillin, James Akin, and James Whitsett promise to pay a five dollar fine for a misdemeanor, and the money for the fine was to go to the seminary of learning in Gibson County, 1823. This proves that James Akin was in Gibson County at least two years before he married his cousin Sarah Ann,—the sister of James McMillin Jr.—in 1825. According to these records and family tradition the McMillin family broke up as a unit in Gibson County. In 1831 or 32 the widow, Catharine McMillen went with her daughter Margaret Jane and her husband Hiram Corn to Franklin County, Illinois, and there joined a group of relatives, some native of Ireland, who had settled there earlier. This change of residence from Indiana to Illinois has been established by data from the 1850 Federal Census. The first three children in the Hiram Corn family were born in Indiana and the fourth child in Illinois. Just where Catharine McMillin lived between 1826 and 1840 is not certain as she had two married daughters, a sister and a brother living in Franklin County, but the 1840 Census names her as a member of the Hiram Corn family in that county. She is buried in Knob Prairie Cemetery near the grave of her son-in-law Hiram Corn. The inscription on her monument which was standing in 1940 was "Catharine McMillin, died Dec. 12, 1847, age 77 years, 10 mos.," thus establishing the birth date, Jan. 20, 1770.

III-1 Sarah Ann McMillin. Born between 1798 and 1802 in So. Carolina. In an article about her husband in a Franklin County History, her death is given as 1860, age 62 years. She married James T. Akin (Akin) 11-19-1825, marriage recorded at Princeton, Ind. He was a first cousin of Sarah Ann's, and the son of James Akin Sr. II-4 and Catharine McLean III-1 Akin. He was probably born in No. Carolina, date unknown. His parents went from North Carolina to Greene Co., Ohio, and after a year or two there they went to Princeton, Ind. This couple located in Franklin County, Illinois, where they had many relatives. James entered a farm in Eastern Township. The above mentioned Franklin County, Ill. History states he died about 1835, leaving one son, the only survivor of six children. For the rest of this line see Descendants of James Akin II-4, "James T. Akin III-11".

III-2 Margaret Jane McMillin. Born July 17 or 18, 1806, in So. Carolina. Died 2-16-1892. Buried in Oak Hill Cemetery Taylorville, Ill. She came to Princeton, Indiana, with her parents about 1809 and there married Hiram Corn, July 8 or 9, 1824. Marriage is recorded in Gibson County Records at Princeton. Hiram Corn was born 8-23-1787 in Kentucky. See Corn History, Part II, Allied Families. He served in the war of 1812 as a private under Captain Lewis in the County Militia, 13th Regiment, was wounded in the shoulder by an Indian's arrow, and was a prisoner of war at Ft. Meigs. He received eighty acres of land at two different times under Bounty Land Acts. Land Certificate Nos. were 1616 and 8261, one issued from the Shawneetown Land Office and from Warsaw, Mo. Office. The land was claimed after the Acts of 1850 and 1855. One of these tracts was in Hamilton County, Ill. and the other in Morgan County, Illinois.

Hiram Corn and his wife Margaret Jane McMillin Corn moved from Gibson Co., Indiana to Franklin Co., Illinois about 1831. Birth dates of children named in the 1850 Federal Census establish this move. County records of Franklin County at Benton, Illinois, show transfers of land by Hiram and his wife in 1851 and 53 and about 1854 they moved to Morgan Co., Illinois and are listed in the State census of 1855. After a few years, he and part of the family returned to Franklin Co. where he died 4-10-1863. He is buried in Knob Prairie Cemetery, near Akin, Illinois and his monument was repaired in 1949. Hiram and his wife who was known as Peggy, had twelve children. The names and dates of birth are taken from his family Bible which is now in possession of Mrs Gladys Corn Becker, Springfield, Illinois.

IV-2 William Dunreath Corn. Born 12-10-1827 Gibson Co., Ill. Died 8-14-1896. Buried at Harvel, Ill. Married 9-15-1850 Elizabeth Frances Banes Burlison. Marriage recorded at McLeansboro, Hamilton Co., Ill. Her first marriage, to J. H. Burleson, 3-21-1846, is recorded at the same place. She was born 3-27-1830 in Ken., daughter of Wm. Banes and Keziah Adams Banes. William D. Corn and his wife Elizabeth Frances, first lived in Franklin County, then a few years in Morgan County, and the rest of their lives in Montgomery County, Illinois. DESCENDANTS OF NANCY AKIN, DAUGHTER OF WILLIAM AKIN I II-3 Nancy Akin. Born in 1771, County Antrim, Ireland. The inscription on her monument reads "Died 2-5-1844, age 73". She lived first in Pennsylvania, then in South Carolina. Records in Guilford Co., North Carolina, record her marriage 5-6-1791 to Robert McLean. According to information furnished by a descendant of the McLean family, this Robert McLean was the 7th child of John McLean, Jr., and Jane Marshall, who married in 1751 and went to No. Car. about 1760. Robert was probably born there as his birth date was 1762. His grandfather John McLean came to America about 1737. See John McLean Family, PART II, Allied Families. Nancy Akin McLean and her husband Robert McLean, five children, and James Akin, husband of their daughter Jane, arrived in Franklin County, Illinois, in 1816. It was a long trek from North Carolina, and they had stopped and lived for a while in Ohio, also in Gibson Co., Indiana. In the latter County, had been established the home of Catharine Akin (II-2) McMullen, a sister of Nancy Akin McLean. Such stop-overs were often prolonged visits with members of the family that had preceded them and had not been seen for some time.

Nancy's husband, Robert McLean, was the first man to settle on Knob Prairie, Franklin Co., Ill. He built his cabin about one-half mile east of where the village of Akin now stands. The nearest white man was about eight miles distant, in Cave Township, where the Jordan Brothers, William and John Browning, Joseph Estes and William Barbrey had settled and built Jordan's Fort. This fort was occupied at intervals until 1817. The nearest neighbors in other directions were at Knight's Prairie, 12 miles distant where the Moore and Hall families had settled. The Dale and Shirley Families had settled at the edge of Hall Prairie, six miles northeast. In 1818, Robert McLean's brother-in-law, James Akin (II-4) arrived with his family and settled in Eastern Township on Knob Hill, Franklin Co. Soon, other relatives came. James Akin (II-4) became known as "Knobby Jim", to distinguish him from his nephew James Akin, the son-in-law of Nancy and Robert McLean. (Data from the address by Dr. Andy Hall at the Aiken-McLean Reunion at Knob Prairie Church, Aug. 29, 1912.)

Nancy Akin McLean and her husband Robert McLean were buried in Knob Prairie Cemetery, near Akin, Ill. Monuments were in fairly good condition in 1940.

III-1 Jane McLean. Born about 4-24-1794, No. Car. Her monument inscription reads, "Jane, wife of J. Akin, died 1-12-1871, age 76 years, 8 months 20 days." (Knob Prairie Cemetery). Married her first cousin, James Akin (III-2), known as "Squire Jimmy". He died 9-12-1863, aged about 78 years according to his monument. See descendants of James Akin, III-2 in Descendants of William Akin II-1.

III-2 Katy (Catharine) McLean. Married John Plasters who had been courting her in No. Car. and who followed her family on horseback.

IV-1 Nancy Plasters. Married William Smith.

IV-10 John Plasters. Married ——— Irby.

IV-11 Caroline Plasters. Married Singleton Varnier.

V-1 Ella Varnier. Born 7-17-1866. Married "Tim Corn", V-4 under Descendants of Catharine Akin, daughter of Wm. Akin I PART I. There were other Varnier children. No data.

III-3 Betsy McLean. Married ——— Ewing.

III-4 John McLean.

III-5 James Aiken McLean. Born 2-12-1809. Date taken from the book "One Hundred Years in Illinois", written by his son, Dr. John McLean. Dr. Andy Hall, a grandson of James Aiken McLean, stated in an address on the "Life and Character of James Aiken McLean", that his grandfather was born near Greensboro, N. C. The 1850 Federal Census states he was born in Georgia. Both could be correct. He was about 7 years old when he came to Illinois with his parents, Nancy Akin II-3 McLean and Robert McLean III-7. On Oct. 4, 1829, he married Lydia Smith. Federal Census of 1850 gives her birth as 1814, No. Car. They built their log cabin about three quarters of a mile northeast of Akin, Ill. and the first two children were born there. Then he built a double log cabin on the hill or high ground northwest of Akin, into which he moved. After this he was called High Ground Ake, to distinguish him from Aiken McLean who lived on the low ground close to Knob Hill. Information about the home is from the address of Dr. Hall referred to above, which also gives the date of his death as 1883. His wife died a few years later. Both are buried in Knob Hill Cemetery, near Akin, Ill. The names and dates of children and grandchildren are taken from Dr. Hall's address which was delivered Aug. 29-1912. Names marked with * were deceased at the time. In some cases the 1850 Federal Census has been used to compute the year of birth.

IV-1 Julia McLean. Born 1830, died 1917. Married in 1848 (?) Col. H. W. Hall. He was said to have been 92 years of age in 1919. (From "One Hundred years in Illinois", by Dr. John McLean.)

V-7 Dr. Wm. Wesley Hall.

V-8 Dr. Andy Hall.

The following is quoted from the Illinois State Journal, May 21, 1950.

"Dr. Andy Hall, Outstanding U. S. Doctor, To Be Honored at State Medical Meet."

"Dr. Andy Hall of Mt. Vernon, chosen last December as the outstanding doctor of the nation for 1949, will be a special guest of honor at the 110th annual convention of the Illinois State Medical society which opens here Tuesday, for three days. He also will be a guest of the Sangamon County Medical society, which will convene at the same time.

"Dr Andy", as he is affectionately known by his neighbors, was born Jan. 8, 1865, on a farm in Hamilton County, the eighth of nine children of Lt. Col. and Mrs Hiram Hall. She was the former Miss Julia McLean.

The Hall family, descendants of Lyman Hall, whose name was third on the Declaration of Independence, came to Illinois from Georgia in the early 1800's.

Dr. Hall got his first few years of schooling in a one room log school house, whose teachers he still remembers clearly after nearly eighty years. One of them, Miss Betty Turntine, found him drawing a horse on his slate in spelling class one day and punished him with her favorite four foot switch, he recalls. "Today", Dr. Hall said, "they hire people to teach the kids to draw". Dr. Hall got his medical education at Northwestern University. He was graduated from Northwestern in 1890 and immediately "hung out his shingle" at Mt. Vernon, then a town of 4000. Rent on his first office, consisting of two upstairs rooms in a down town building, cost him $5.00 a month, he remembers.

By 1892 he made sufficient progress to feel justified in taking a wife, and Jan. 1, 1892, married Miss Anna Laura Glazebrook, a teacher. He has always been an active member of the First Baptist Church in Mt. Vernon. In 1946 the Mt. Vernon Chamber of Commerce voted him its annual civic award "for outstanding and distinguished community service". When his selection as outstanding general practitioner for the state in 1949 was announced by the Illinois State Medical Society, the popularity of the choice was demonstrated by a flood of letters, telegrams, and telephone calls, as old patients congratulated him on the honor.

Dr. Hall's contributions to community welfare were exemplified by his service as Mayor of Mt. Vernon for a term and as head of the local school board for eight years. However, his most unusual service to the town occurred in 1913. Looking from his office window one day, he saw a hold-up man back out of a bank across the street and head for a quick getaway. "Dr. Andy" seized a rifle in his office, cranked up his gas buggy and pursued the robber to the outskirts of the town, where he disarmed him and held him until the sheriff arrived.

"Dr. Andy" was the first in his town to sign up for the Spanish-American War. He was regimental surgeon for nearly a year, fighting yellow fever and other diseases in the Cuban tropics. He also served as an army doctor in the Philippines during the Insurrection and World War I. He saw only stateside service in World War I, but he recalls being ambushed on several occasions while serving in the Philippines.

Back home after 1919, Dr. Hall rebuilt his practice and organized the Fifty Year Medical Club in Illinois. Other states since have copied the organization. Dr. Hall practiced medicine in Mt. Vernon for nearly 60 years. The medical profession was a rugged test of character and physique in the 90's. He had a horse at first and later a horse and buggy, but he soon learned the quickest way to reach many country patients was to swing aboard a train and ride to a point nearest the patient's home, then cut across the open country to the home. He remembers on one occasion when he was unable to get transportation he walked nine miles on a winter day to perform a mastoid operation. After the patient was comforted and put to sleep, he walked nine miles back to town. Dr. Hall's practice has always been a typical combination of obstetrics, medicine and surgery. He estimates he averaged 70 deliveries a year over half a century, bringing into the world 3500 children.

His pre-eminence as a physician was further attested when he was appointed director of the department of public health of Illinois in 1929. He served four years. During that time he organized crusades against smallpox, diphtheria, trachoma, typhoid and dysentery in the state. The diseases were cut down to a great extent. Almost single-handed he maneuvered through the State Legislature a bill to require physicians to instill silver nitrate into the eyes of new born babies to prevent blindness due to gonorrhea. When World War II drained the nation of its young doctors, Dr. Hall, then nearing eighty, felt it was his duty to continue active practice although he had considered retiring. His acceptance of that responsibility, was in the opinion of his fellow townsmen, the crowning achievement of his long career.

DESCENDANTS OF JAMES AKIN, SON OF WILLIAM AKIN I

II-4 James Akin. Born 1-9-1775 or 76, on passage to America. This date has been computed from the inscription on his monument which reads "James Akin Sr., 80 yrs. 9 mos. 22 days. Died 10-31-1855". The last figure was indistinct and may have been 6. He was known in Illinois as "Knobby Jim" or "Knob Jimmy". He probably lived in Pennsylvania while his father was in Revolutionary service, then went with his parents to South Carolina, Fairfield District. Like his sister Nancy, he was married in Guilford County, North Carolina (record in Guilford County Courthouse), and he also married into the same McLean family which had settled there near another family by the name of William Akin. He married Catharine McLean, 12-12-1800, a cousin of Robert McLean (III-7), who had married his sister Nancy Akin (II-3). The inscription on her monument reads "Catharine, wife of James Akin, married 12-11-1800, died 9-8-1853, age 76 years". They may have lived in North Carolina as did his sister Nancy, until they started on their trek to Illinois. This family stopped a year or more in Greene County, Ohio, and then again for a few years in Gibson Co., Indiana. They probably left Carolina about 1810 or 1811 and reached Gibson County by 1814. According to the records of Gibson County, James McMillen, husband of his sister Catharine Akin (II-2) McMillen, died in 1814. Records of the inventory and sale of the estate of James McMillen, show that James Akin bought many articles.

The names of the children of James and Catharine Akin, but not the birth dates, were given in the family sketch on the printed invitation to a family reunion at Akin, Ill. 8-31-1911. In 1817 a child was buried in the Archer Cemetery near Princeton, Gibson Co., Indiana, on the same lot with James McMillen who died in 1814. The inscription on her tombstone, still legible in 1945, read "Jane Akin, born 1-2-1807, died 8-7-1819". She was probably a child of this family and was buried beside her uncle, James McMillen.

Sketches of family history state that James Akin, known as Knobby Jim, arrived in Franklin Co., Ill. to make his home, in 1818. If correct, the child mentioned above was probably left with the relatives in Gibson Co., Ind.

James Akin and wife, Catharine McLean (III-1) Akin, are both buried in Knob Prairie Cemetery, near Akin, Illinois.

III-1 William Mars Aiken. Married in 1833, Catharine Smith.

IV-1 Wilford Aiken (Akin). Died in 1860.

- V-2 Geno Aiken. Born 10-9-1889. Married in 1913, Robert E. Hudelson. Residence, Benton, Ill. 1950.

VI-1 Catharine Ann Hudelson. Born 10-25-1917. Married 1940, Dr. Cline O. Williams, Commander in Navy, World War II. Residence, Lake Forest, Ill. 1950.

VII-1 Julie Virginia Williams. Born 12-13-1941.

III-2 James T. Aiken. Born in North Carolina. Married 11-19-1825, Sara Ann McMillen, his first cousin, at Princeton, Indiana. She was a daughter of James and Catharine Akin (II-2) McMillen. A history of Franklin County, Ill. states he entered a farm in Eastern Township of that County, and that he died there about 1835, leaving one son as the only survivor of six children. His monument is in Knob Prairie Cemetery near Akin, Ill.

IV-1 James M. Aiken. Married, Mary A. Carter, daughter of John T. and Jane Carter, born 1824 in Smith Co. Tenn. According to Franklin County history, James M. Aiken worked for a year for his uncle, after which he started for himself and married at the age of 18. He farmed first in Eastern Township, then sold and bought other land. He was a Lieutenant in the Civil War.

V-1 Samantha J. Aiken. Married, Aiken Plasters.

III-3 Walter Scott Akin. Born 10-25-1805, near Greensboro, Guilford County, N. C. His father took the family to Greene County, Ohio, in 1808 and in 1814 to the Territory of Indiana. Early in the spring of 1817 Walter Scott Akin and his brother James came to the Territory of Illinois and settled in Crawfords Prairie. They were joined by their father in the fall who settled on Knob Prairie. At the age of 18, Walter went to Frankfort and engaged in the mercantile business with John Ewing and was elected the first Justice of the Peace in the County. In 1832, he enlisted and served throughout the Black Hawk War. In 1838 he was elected Assessor of the county and Aug. 28th 1838, he and Mr. Ewing entered the land on which the town of Benton, Franklin Co. stands. Williamson County was formed and cut off from Franklin in 1839 and the legislature located the county seat upon the land of Akin and Ewing who donated to the County Commissioners 22 acres for a town site. On the 1st of January, 1845, he was appointed by the Legislature as one of the Commissioners to restore the record of deeds that burned in the courthouse fire of 1843 and he served until Deed Book A was restored. He was elected a member of the House of Representatives in 1847, appointed Collector of Internal Revenue 1864-1867, and in 1873 appointed Post Master at Benton retaining same until his death August 23, 1877. The foregoing was taken from his obituary in the Benton newspaper.

Walter Scott Akin was married five times; 1st to Betsy Ann Lampley, 2nd to Sarah Jane Hartin (recorded 5-7-1838, Princeton, Ind.), 3rd to Drucilla Cantrell Pierce, 4th to Sally Crawford Wilbank and 5th to Jane Reddlin Duncan who was born 12-31-1820, died 2-12-1888.

PART II

ALLIED FAMILIES

WALTER AKIN, OF CHESTER COUNTY, SOUTH CAROLINA

Recorded in Fairfield County, South Carolina, Office of Probate Judge, Book C, Folio 83, March 3, 1806.

"In the name of God Amen! October 6, 1805, I Walter Aikin, of the District of Fairfield, planter, being very sick and weak in body and of sound mind and memory Thanks be to God therefor, calling unto mind the mortality of my body and knowing that it is appointed for all men once to die, do make and ordain this my last will and testament, that is to say, Principally and first of all, I give and recommend my soul unto Almighty God that give it and my body to the earth to be buried in decent Christian order.

And as touching such worldly estates as it hath pleased God to bless me with, I give, demise and dispose of the same in the following manner and form. Viz. To my beloved wife I bequeath at her own disposal three cows and calves of her own choosing out of the stock of cattle, the best bed and clothing for it, also her choice of the work horses with her saddle and bridal . . . I give and bequeath to my daughter Nancy the second best of the plantation horses, a good saddle and bridal and a bed well furnished and for the use of the family living together Jointly I allow the use of the plantation I now live on. Also the place Alex Thompson formerly lived on until my son Hugh comes of age, and then the two places is to be equally divided between my two sons, Hugh and William, and then if my beloved wife is alive and remains my widow—she is to have a support or living off of the two places during her living or widowhood, and if either of my two sons is dead, the other is to have both tracts of land when of age, and it is my will that the negroes remain on the plantation, also the plantation tools, the stock of hogs, sheep and household furniture with a sufficiency of the present crop for the use of the family until my son William comes of age, and then the negroes and all mentioned to remain on the plantation to be equally divided between all my children then alive.

I leave unto each of my daughters, Jean, Sally and Ann, a good bed and bed clothes, the time when at the discretion of my after-mentioned executors, and it is my will that till the the other property not mentioned in this will, viz; the tract of land at the meeting-house, the two-year old mare &c be sold on credit of, and the money arising from the said sale to be equally divided between my four daughters as they may come of age. I leave to my two sons One Hundred Dollars each to be paid to them when they come of age, also my books to be divided betwixt them . . . It is my will and pleasure that all my just debts be paid and funeral expenses out of what ready money I have—my outstanding debts, and the balance if any, be put into some safe hand at Interest until the divide of the negroes &c takes place and then to be divided in the same manner. I give and bequeath to Mt. Olivet congregation or their committee or trustees for the time being two acres of land where the meeting-house stands, with free and open privilege of a road from said meeting-house to the spring at all times. And I do make and ordain my worthy friends, John Turner, Esq., and James Barber, my Executors to this my last will and testament, and in trust for the true intent and performance according to the True intent and meaning.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF I the said Walter Aikin have to this my last will and testament set my hand and seal this 6th of October one thousand eight hundred and five."

WILLIAM (AKIN) AIKEN,
FATHER OF GOVERNOR AIKEN OF S. C.

The following is quoted from the brochure published for the Centennial Celebration 1835-1935. Aiken, South Carolina, Apr. 6th 1935.

"Aiken, William, after whom the County and City of Aiken, S. C. were named, was the son of James and Elizabeth Aiken. He was born in County Antrim near Belfast, North Ireland, in 1779, a descendant of Scotch people who had settled in Northern Ireland. As a lad of eight he left his family in Ireland and landed in Charleston in 1787. He prospered in his new home, and some twelve years later on the occasion of the death of his father, sent back to Ireland to bring his mother and the younger children to America. Most of the younger children settled in the Fairfield District of South Carolina. One, he later sent to the north to represent there his cotton business.

Mr. Aiken married Henrietta Wyatt, and had one son, William Aiken Jr., who became Governor of South Carolina in 1844. William Aiken, Sr. became interested in public life and served as a member of the Legislature for several terms from 1824 on . . . On May 12th 1828 he was elected President of Southern Railroad system. His death occurred March 5, 1831. He was buried in St. Phillips Churchyard."

From the Compendium of American Genealogy, V.II Page 85.

"David Aiken, born 1787, died 1860. Youngest brother of William Aiken, first president of the South Carolina Railroad, and uncle of William Aiken, Governor of South Carolina, went to Fairfield Co. South Carolina in 1799; married Nancy Kerr 1812, was a merchant in Winnsboro, S. C. David and wife Nancy were buried at the old cemetery at Scion Presbyterian Church in Winnsboro. They had seven sons and two daughters. The widowed mother and brothers Hugh and John were located in the "Little River" section of Fairfield District."

David Aiken owned land which bordered on the south, the land of William Aiken II-1 and wife Hannah which they sold on Wateree Creek near Winnsboro in 1834. (Deed Book LL P117, 1-17-1834. David and wife Nancy sold land to Samuel Wylie on Wateree Creek, 3-13-1819. (Deed Book HH 2 Pages 208-09.)

The two Aiken families came from the same county in Ireland.

DESCENDANTS OF WILLIAM BANES

Different members of this family used the spelling Bane, Banes, Bain, Bains, and Baines. Two incidences were found where the name had been copied Barnes but investigation of the text proved the original papers were Baines. The other names and subject matter identified the family.

I William Banes. Born 1804, No. Carolina. Died 9-11-1854. Estate papers are in Box 4, Franklin County, Ill. courthouse at Benton, Ill. About 1824 he married Keziah Adams, born in Kentucky 1804. Time and place of her death unknown. The 1850 census of Hamilton County, Ill. lists this family head as a farmer and that the first five children were born in Ky., the next three in Maury County, Tenn. and the last three in Hamilton County, Illinois.

II-1 James Milton Banes. Born 1825. Died 1862 at Harrisburg, Ill. Married Emaline Kelison. He was Capt. Company K, 6th Cavalry, Civil War.

CORN FAMILY

Authentic records of the Corn family date back to over a hundred years before the Revolution, as a will of William Corn, dated July 18, 1650, is listed in Volume I of Virginia Colonial Abstracts. The Archives of New Jersey and Pennsylvania also have early records of this family name, the variant spelling including Corn, Corne, Corns, Cornes, Carn, Carnes, the German version Kern and others. Many sons of these names have authentic Revolutionary service records. During the period of the Revolution and immediately following, many of the Corn families joined the great migration to the Western Frontiers, some settling in that section of Western Virginia that later became the state of Kentucky.

An attempt has been made to find and herein record pertinent data which will aid in establishing relationships and locale of these early Kentucky settlers whose descendants are now so widely scattered.

The Kentucky Historical Magazine in the first issue for 1946, published an excellent article on The Corn Family, by Col. James F. Corn of Cleveland, Tenn. This article presents a definite outline of the family of "Old George Corn" who died in 1801 in Mercer County, Ky. where he lived so many years. That he was a doughty pioneer is evidenced by the record of the many law suits he filed in the Mercer County Court before 1800.

Another family of Corns which settled within fifty miles of "Old George" in a section that later became Washington County, was Edward E. Corn, wife Phoebe, children and grandchildren as early as 1785. The signatures of Edward and Andrew follow that of Ebenezer, a son of "Old George" on a document petitioning the formation of a new county in that year. That Edward E. Corn was also "old" is substantiated by his statement which is with the marriage bonds of Catharine Corn and William Hazeltine, that she is over 21 years old and is his grand daughter. The date given is June 24, 1788 and all the papers are filed at the Courthouse at Harrodsburg, Mercer Co., Ky. Furthermore, the Mercer County Court Feb. 22nd, 1791, exempted Edward Corn from County levies on account of "age and infirmities". He died in 1795, and in Washington Co. Minute Book B, is record of the naming of Phoebe Corn as Administrator, who with Nathan Davis and William Yates as security, gave bond in the penalty of 100 pounds. In December 1798, the inventory was returned and approved.

Although many interlocking indications are found, no definite proof of relationship between the two "OLD" Kentucky pioneers has been forthcoming.

Results of the research to ascertain a definite location from which the Edward E. Corn group emigrated, disclose that the records of Hampshire Co. Virginia, now West Virginia, furnish the most likely clue. Both Edward E. Corn and Andrew Corn are named in the Court records at Romney, involving a 3-life lease of 307 acres on Patterson's Creek. (Section known as The Northern Neck, Part of Lord Fairfax Tract, in Colonial Times). Furthermore the Journal of the House of Burgesses of Virginia, 1766-69, Vol. II Page 294, Session Nov. 25, 1769, Tenth Year of the Reign of George III, lists claims of David Corn and Edward Corn Jr., for scout duty along the Western Frontier, Hampshire Militia, and Andrew Corn for provisions furnished. This may have been the background of the Edward E. Corn group of Washington Co. Ken. as it is not far from that section of the Frontier from which the family of "Old George Corn" came.

Among the tax-payers listed for Washington County, Ken. the names of Andrew, David,

John, William and Edward appear from 1791 to 1808, and the following early marriages were copied from the Court house records at Springfield:

Elizabeth Corn, daughter of Edward Corn to James Jackson, 5-28-1798

Andrew Corn to Jennie Jackson, 12-26-1801

Edward Corn to Prudence Nearn, 8-6-1804

Fanny Corn or Conn to Samuel Bishop, 12-12-1796

William Corn to Katharine Butler or Burtle, 8-15-1807

Andrew Corn to Eve Hendrickson 10-17-1818

In nearby Hardin County Courthouse were found:

David Corn to Mary Burtle or Butler, 5-31-1810

Edward Corn to Sally Fowler, 5-3-1827

James Corn or Conn to Janey or Jinny Gardner, 5-13-1814

James Corn or Conn to Nancy Myers, 3-26-1816

In the period from 1810 to 1830 there was a mass movement of Kentucky settlers into Indiana, Illinois and Missouri, and many Corn families again sought "Green Pastures". Many of the family of "Old George" settled in DuBois Co., Indiana. Mrs. Ezra Davidson, 287 Madison St., Twin Falls, Idaho, a descendant, has much tabulated data concerning this group. For information regarding a group of descendants of Edward E. Corn who settled in Pike Co., Indiana, address Miss Julie E. Tulpin, 1136 North Ninth St., Springfield, Illinois.

By 1820 the Corns from Washington Co., Ken. had scattered in Kentucky or elsewhere, as the Federal Census for 1820 of that County does not list any family head by that name. However, the 1812 War Service record of Hiram Corn, indicated a search in Shelby County, and the 1810 Federal Census of Shelby listed three Corn families consecutively, viz., John, Edward and Andrew.

John appears to have a family of four, but the record is illegible. Nothing more has been learned of this family.

Edward is listed as a family head of five, which includes 1 girl and 2 boys all under five years of age. Edward died before 1824 or during that year, as the Mercer County Court awarded custody of his two minor sons, 17 and 19, to Asa Corn. (See Deed Book 13, page 118, Harrodsburg, Ken.)

Andrew is listed as over 45, wife over 45, 1 girl and 1 boy under 10, 2 boys and 1 girl under 16, 2 boys and 1 girl between 18 and 26. This appears to be the family background of Hiram, James, Asa, Charles, Sarah and Catharine and possibly other brothers and sisters.

The tax records of Shelby County list Andrew, Hiram, James, Asa and Charles from about 1801 to 1824, paying personal or land taxes. Three tracts of land, all located on Crooked Creek were paid on. In 1824, the formation of the new County of Spencer included this section,—Mt. Eden District—and Andrew's tax paying record continues through 1826. That he died about this time is indicated by the fact that Charles certified his two sisters were over 21 at the time of their marriages in 1827. (Bonds are at Taylorsville, Spencer County, Kentucky.)

Since definite proof is lacking, the following outline naming Andrew Corn as the father of Hiram, James, Asa, Charles, Sarah and Catharine is only an assumption based upon the description of the family given in the 1810 Federal Census of Shelby County, other Court records of Shelby and Spencer Counties and the association of names and traditions. It is probable there were other children besides the above named. Definite data relative to the known members of the family follows with the assumption that Andrew Corn was the father; no trace of the mother has been found at the time of publication.

I- Andrew Corn. Taxpayer in Shelby and Spencer Counties, Ken. Owned a tract of 104 acres on Crooked Creek. No trace found after 1826.

II-1 Hiram Corn. Born 1787. Died 4-10 1863, near Akin, Ill., and is buried at Knob Prairie Church Graveyard, Akin. He was a veteran of the War of 1812, enlisting once from Shelbyville, and again from Nicholasville. Was taken prisoner of war at Ft. Meigs; wounded in the shoulder by an Indian's arrow and had a lame shoulder all his life. Pension Record W.C. 23730, Washington, D. C. Married 7-28-1824, Margaret Jane McMillen at Princeton, Gibson County, Indiana. For lineage see Part I, Catharine Akin II.

II-2 James Corn. Born about 1792, married first, Susannah Rush 8-18-1813, married second, Lucy Daniels, daughter of Pleasant Daniels, 8-24-1820. (Records at Frankfort, Ken. State Historical Library. His death occurred between 1838, the date of his will, and 1842 when the first settlement was filed. Will Book 12, Shelby Co.)

III-1 Harrison Corn. Named as son in will of James Corn.

III-2 Sarah Corn. Married John Lewis (Louis). Deceased before 1844 when John Lewis was paid her interest in her father's estate.

III-3 Pleasant Corn. Evidently a child of Lucy Daniels Corn as he bears her father's name. Married Sarah Morgan, but record not found. His estate was administered in Shelby Co. 1-14-1859.

IV-1 Martha Corn. Born 1857 (Shelby Co., Vital Statistics)

III-4 James Corn. Received his share of his father's estate 4-3-1846, Shelby Co., Will Book 24, Page 185.

III-5 William Corn. Received share of his father's estate, 10-11-1845, Shelby Co., Will Book 24, Page 186.

II-3 Asa B. Corn. Born 1795, married Mary A. Dickey, daughter of Hays Dickey, in 1824. (Record at Harrodsburg, Ky.) Removed to Jefferson County, Indiana, before 1848 when the estate of Hays Dickey was settled at Harrodsburg, Ky. Asa B. Corn died at Madison, Jefferson Co., Indiana 3-23-1859 and Mary died 1-22-1879. (Dates furnished by Genealogy Division of Indiana State Library, Indianapolis, Ind., also the following marriage dates of this family.)

III-1 Asa Corn. No data.

III-2 Aaron Corn. Married Margaret Scott, 8-11-1851.

III-3 Alexander Corn. Married Susan E. Monroe, 11-3-1864.

III-4 James A. Corn. Married Harriet D. L. Stanley, 3-9-1870.

III-5 Eliza J. Corn. Married Lucius Vorhies of Peru, Ind., 5-12-1856.

III-6 Mary E. Corn. No data.

II-4 Charles Corn. Born 1801. Married 3-10-1828, Mary Murphy, Spencer Co., Ky. Federal census of Spencer Co., Ky., for 1830, lists him as living on the Corn land on Crooked Creek with wife and son under five (infant). Died in Washington Co., Ky., in 1871; settlement of estate recorded in Will Book "P," page 308 at Springfield, Ky. The federal census of 1870 lists Charles Corn and wife Mary living in Willisburg Precinct.

III-1 William Terrel Corn. Born in Spencer Co., Ky., 1829 or 30. Married twice. No record found of marriage to first wife, Mary ———.

IV-1 Martha Alice Corn. Born about 1855.

IV-2 Fannie Corn. Born about 1858.

IV-3 Lucas Corn. Born about 1862. Married Nannie Woolbridge.

William Terrel Corn married second, 11-25-1863, Sarah L. Light, daughter of Thomas Light (Book 5, page 70) at Springfield, Washington Co., Ky.

IV-4 Sue Corn. Born about 1866.

IV-5 Charles Thomas Corn. Born in 1872 and the only one of this family whose lineage has been obtainable. When he died in 1941 at Harrodsburg, Mercer Co., Ky., he was widely known as a Judge of the Mercer County Court.

V-1 James Franklin Corn. Born 10-15-1894. Married 11-21-1921, Irene Knox of Cleveland, Tenn. Residence, Cleveland, Tenn., 1950. Mr. Corn was in service of World War II, military rank of Colonel when discharged.

VI-1 Jo Corn. Born 11-22-1922. Married D. S. Stuart of Cleveland, Tenn.

FORRESTER FAMILY

Material furnished in 1937 by Maude Forrester Bird

I- Thomas Henry Forrester. Born in London, England, married Deborah Parker, born in Birmingham, England. They lived in England until after the birth of their second child. The following information is copied from their "Passenger's Contract Ticket." It was signed by Hiram Clark, Licensed Agent at 36 Chapel Street, Liverpool and dated September 1, 1843. Passage was on the ship Metoka of New York, 755 tons, to sail from Liverpool to New Orleans on September 1, 1843. Names and ages listed on the ticket were: Thomas Henry Forrester, age thirty years; Deborah Forrester, age thirty years; Jane Forrester, age four years; Elizabeth Forrester, age one year. The trip took several months and their third child, Phoebe Matoka was born en route.

II-1 Jane Forrester. Born in England about 1839.

II-2 Elizabeth Forrester. Born in England about 1842.

II-3 Phoebe Matoka Forrester. Born en route to American on the ship Metoka.

II-4 Joseph Mercer Forrester. Born 1851. Died 1939. Buried at Harvel, Illinois. Married Sarah Florence Corn; (V-5 under Descendants of Catharine Aken, Part I) Born in Morgan County, Illinois, about 1859. She died in 1884 and is buried in Asbury Cemetery, Raymond, Illinois.

FAMILY MARKER

III-5 Margaret Paisley. Born 1747.

III-6 Mary Paisley. Born 1750.

II-2 John McLean, Jr. Born in Ireland, 1724, and came with his father to Pennsylvania in 1737. He married Jane Marshall (supposedly a sister of Nancy Marshall) in 1751. Between 1760 and 1765 he went to North Carolina and secured a tract of land on the waters of Alamance Creek. He built first a log cabin on the slope of a hill above a spring in which he lived until he completed a new house for a permanent home. The new house was completed before 1767.

An article dated March 17, 1898, and signed by W. P. McLean, was loaned for use in this manuscript, in order that the description of the house, which follows, would be given by one of the family who was familiar with it.

"AN HISTORIC OLD HOUSE"

"The present seems to be an age of reminiscence, and of digging up old family histories and bringing to light old and curious family relics. It is with this reminiscent feeling that the writer undertakes to give a brief history of an old house in Guilford County.

"About the year 1750, at the time of what is known as the Scottish-Irish movement, John McLean, a native of the County of Ulster, Ireland, moved from the colony of Pennsylvania, to secure for himself and his posterity a home in the wilds of North Carolina. He entered a large tract of land on the waters of Alamance Creek in what was then Orange but now Guilford County. Within sight of this historic stream he built his house and it is more of this house than of those who occupied it, that I wish to write. The exact date of its erection is not known, but we are certain that it was built before the year 1767. It is now in possession of the fifth generation of McLeans descended in the direct line from the original owner and is now, and has been, during all these years, occupied as a dwelling. We think that it is the oldest inhabited house in Guilford County. The house is almost a quadrangle, three sides built of yellow poplar logs, sawed eight or ten inches square, pinned together at the corners and placed on a solid rock foundation. The huge construction was called the frame and it was then weather-boarded and sealed, and was originally painted red. It fronts to the East and has a porch running along both the east and the west sides. The south end is built entirely of rocks, and originally contained a fire-place eleven feet wide and so high that a man six feet tall could stand under the mantle. The front door, a heavy but rather handsome affair, was made in two parts, an upper and a lower. All the lumber used was gotten out and prepared by hand, and shows some very fine artistic workmanship. When first built and for a long time, the entire house was in one room and heated by this immense fire-place. Marshal McLean, the second proprietor, divided it into two rooms and built a chimney at the North end. John Marshall McLean, the third proprietor, built an ell against the front, but without making any changes in the exterior appearance of the house. Walter H. McLean, the present proprietor, has filled in this large fireplace, has extended a partition in the opposite direction and thus made two comfortable rooms, with a fireplace in each one, all from this one fireplace. Notwithstanding all these changes, the outside appearance of the old house is the same today that it was when the Liberty Bell sounded in 1776.

"This quaint old house has been the home of the same family under two local and three national governments. Under its broad low roof has slept soldiers of five wars. It has the honor of sheltering Col. William Washington in the spring of 1781 while his troops reposed under the tall graceful poplars in the yard. There are those who can trace their ancestry back to this old house, now known to be living in the states of New Jersey, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Texas, Tennessee, Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, the Dakotas and Washington, and many have been lost sight of and are, perhaps, living in other states. They have spanned the Continent and among them are found lawyers, physicians, teachers, ministers, merchants, farmers, mechanics and artisans. Such is the history, briefly told, of the old house. The companions of its early days are all gone, but the old stone doorsteps upon which brave men trode, when with knapsack and rifle they left home at their country's call to endure all hardships of a soldier's life are the same now as then. The same stories are in a large old chimney around which sat mothers, wives and daughters, who, with deft fingers, made wonderful fabrics of flax, wool and cotton, for the anxiously waited loved ones far away. The beautiful waters of the Alamanse sing the same song as they ripple over the same stones now as then. All else is changed, even the sturdy oaks and tall poplars have decayed and died. Generations have come and gone. Some have sought homes in the far west and long since mingled their ashes with the dust of the prairie. Others have been laid to rest in the Alamanse Churchyard and the same Alamanse Creek which sang their lullaby when they lay in their cradles now sings their requiem as it rushes past their graves. Still the old house stands as of yore extending its hospitality to all who may come. Another and a younger generation now roam over the old house, now peering into nooks and crannies and wonder what they were for, exploring the mysteries of the old garret and bringing to light the old swords, pistols and reap hooks, implements of war and peace, little dreaming of the hardships endured and the sacrifices made by the owners of those implements to secure the liberty and freedom they now enjoy."

The Greensboro, N. C. Daily News, October 30, 1932, carried two photographs with accompanying material describing the unveiling of McLEAN HOUSE MARKER. This huge 14,000 pound boulder is on Highway No. 10 at Sedalia, eight miles east of Greensboro, N. C. This marker was erected by Guilford Battle Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, and the descendants of John and Jane Marshall McLean. At the unveiling of the marker, a message was read from Mrs. Nellie Baker Ingraham, Pasadena, California, and thanks extended to her and to Mrs. Charles Baker, also of Pasadena (McLean descendants) for making possible the fund for the marker. They are descendants of Anne McLean Donnell, grand-daughter of John McLean who built the above described house, and her husband George Donnell, who went to Greenville, Illinois in 1819. The bronze tablet on the boulder carries the following inscription:

"McLean House. One half-mile south of this marker stands the home built by John McLean and his wife Jane Marshall McLean, before 1767. Col. William Washington spent some time in this house in the spring of 1781. It has been the home of five successive generations of the McLean family, members of which have served in six wars. Erected by Guilford Battle Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution and descendants of John and Jane Marshall McLean. 1932."

Another quotation of interest concerning McLean House is taken from this same paper.

"Interest centers about this house from another angle. Shortly before the Battle of Guilford Courthouse, while Lord Cornwallis and his army were encamped in this neighborhood, his cavalry and detached parties were constantly pillaging and plundering the houses of the community. They were especially destructive to the property of all Whigs. A squad of these British soldiers came here and pillaged this home and premises, carrying all they could use for man and beast and destroying much that they could not take with them. Tradition says that Lord Cornwallis himself was a member of the raiding party that plundered this home, and that some of his soldiers camped here and were very destructive to property, Marshall C. Stewart, a great-great grand-son of John McLean (1724-1807) now has in his possession a soap trough, such as was used in the olden times for making lye soap, which has been handed down to him with the tradition that Cornwallis and his men used the soap from this trough."

The same issue of the Greensboro Daily News states that McLean House was sold by Walter H. McLean, in 1908 to Palmer Memorial Institute, after being held by the McLean family 148 years.

John McLean II-2, died in North Carolina in 1807.

III-1 Joseph McLean. Born in 1752 in Guilford County, married Margaret Mebane, 1779, and lived ten miles east of Greensboro, N. C. He served in the Revolutionary War and was pensioned. He died in 1832 and is buried in Alamanse Cemetery. Grave marked.

SWIRES FAMILY

Material furnished in 1937 by Maude Forrester Bird

I. James Swires. Married Elizabeth Lises on July 4, 1839 at Clayton, West York, England. Elizabeth Lises Swires was born at Clayton, West Yorkshire, England, April 30, 1814. She died at the home of her daughter Mary Jane Swires Thomason, in October, 1910, at Harvel, Illinois and is buried at Raymond, Ill., beside Mary Jane and Andrew J. Thomason.

II-1 Mary Jane Swires. Born 2-7-1849 in New Jersey. Died at the home of her daughter Mrs. Joseph Forrester of Harvel, Illinois. Buried at Asbury Cemetery, Raymond, Illinois. Married 9-7-1869, at Carrollton, Greene Co., Ill., Andrew Jackson Thomason, born 2-16-1843, died 9-26-1903. He was the son of Spencer Thomason and Mary Stone Thomason, who were natives of North Carolina, of English and Scotch descent. They emigrated to Greene Co., Illinois, in 1830 and farmed there. He died in 1847 and she died in 1861. They were the parents of seven children, of whom Andrew Jackson was the fifth child. These children were 1, William Henry, 2, John Berry Thomason (father of Laura Thomason Rees), 3, Elzina Thomason Brooks (who lived on a farm near Carrollton, Illinois, and gave land from the farm for a Baptist Church which was still standing in 1937) whose husband was Willis Brooks, 4, Nancy Thomason, who married John Hardin Scroggins and has many descendants in Greene Co., 5, Andrew Jackson Thomason who served with the Sixty-first Ill. Inf. with Capt. J. B. Nelton, his regiment being commanded by General Jacob Frye, 6, James Thomason, and 7, Joseph Spencer Thomason.

The above couple lived near Waggoner, Ill., for some time but later established a home at Harvel, Ill., Mr. Thomason being a merchant.

III-1 Alice Thomason. Born 7-19-1870. Married Joseph Mercer Forrester, 8-6-1891. (See Forrester Family, Part II, Joseph Mercer Forrester II-4.)
